

The Benefits of Home Health Care

2012-02-24 / Business

The need for home health care continues to increase steadily, with people living longer, the aging of the baby-boom generation and, most importantly, the advancement of medical technology enabling more people to remain in the comforts of their own home. Whether it's caring for a medically-compromised infant or needing light supervision for an aging parent, home care could meet just about every need.

Additionally, one aspect of home health care, which may not be noted often, is the cost benefit over other, well known alternatives, including independent and assisted living facilities.

Therefore, when the need for affordable home health care arises, Preferred Home Health Care & Nursing Services could meet all of your home care needs and work within your financial budget. Preferred, proudly operating since 1987, has seven offices across New Jersey, including one location in Galloway.

“Despite a soft economy, the need for home care continues to grow throughout the community,” noted Craig Hoffer, Manager of Preferred’s Galloway location. “We are proud to service many families, keeping their costs low while allowing a loved one to remain in their home.”

Preferred could meet any health care need while helping the individual remain in the comfort of their own home, including providing services such as bathing, grooming, toileting, light housekeeping and ambulation. Additionally, we could provide nursing services such as private duty hourly nursing and nursing visits for wound care and medication administration.
